NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler will address the nation tonight on "the other side of the Adams case."

The television and radio networks have granted free time to Sherman Adams to announce his resignation Monday night as assistant to the President. Butler contended the announcement was partisan and political and asked equal time.

CBS said it would carry Butler's speech over its television and radio networks from 5:35 to 6:45 to carry the speech at that specific time. In New York City, for instance, CBS will televise the speech at 5:50 to 6 p.m. EST and will broadcast it from 6:35 to 6:45 p.m. EST.

The Mutual Broadcasting System said it would carry the speech at 5:35 p.m. EST, the same time it carried the Adams speech.

NBC said it was ready to telecast and broadcast the Butler remarks, but that it had not yet received any direct request to do so.

ABC still was weighing the matter.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sherman Adams is getting out, but the political shooting over the assistant to the President is going right on. That was apparent today in the wake of Monday night's nationwide broadcast in which President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide insisted "I have done no wrong" but announced he is leaving his post in "consideration of the effect of my continuing presence on the public scene."

22 More L. R. Students Transfer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Another 22 high school students transferred from the Little Rock School District today, bringing to 302 the number attending schools elsewhere because of the closing of this city's four high schools.

Superintendent Virgil Blossom released the figures at the morning session of twice daily news conferences.

He said 102 students now have transferred from Central High School, 194 from Hall (28 per cent of Hall's student body), two from Teah High and four from Horace Mann High for Negroes.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who closed the four schools against integration, has said he anticipated their reopening next week.

Blossom said today school board attorneys were "dealing with what is the board's legal position" in the racial stalemate here. "I do not know what the attorneys are developing," he added.

This was the superintendent's answer to newsmen's questions asking whether action was planned to head off a recall of four board members; whether the board might ask federal district court for instructions if Saturday's referendum results in an anti-integration vote; and what he thought his own position would be in event four members of the board were recalled.

Clement Says Ike Failed in His Duty

By PAUL R. JORDAN
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Frank Clement today accused President Eisenhower of "not meeting his responsibilities" in the integration crisis and said he should be here instead of vacationing.

"This nation," said the Tennessee governor at a press conference prior to the second session of the Southern Governors Conference, "is faced with its most serious domestic problem since the Civil War. And yet the President is in Newport, with Sherman Adams trying to decide how Adams should bow out."

Clement said the President, to his knowledge was not invited to the conference here, but added "he shouldn't wait for an invitation."

The Democratic governor also said he has prepared a resolution which would put the conference here on record reaffirming states' rights coupled with a declaration of state responsibilities. It will be introduced, he said, "if I think it will pass."

At least two other governors have said they will introduce conflicting resolutions for consideration.

1.6 Million Bales Cotton Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau reported today that 1,645,486 running bales of cotton from the 1958 crop were ginned prior to Sept. 16.

This number compared with 1,622,012 bales ginned from the previous year's crop to the corresponding date a year ago.

The ginnings by states this year and last, respectively, in running bales included:

Delay Denied Norfolk Schools; Petitions for Recall Not Quite Ready

Group Seeking to Oust 4 School Board Members

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A women's segregationist group which seeks recall of four members of the Little Rock School Board today delayed filing of the ouster petitions.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the Mothers League of Central High, said she had found that work remains to be done before the petitions are in shape for submission.

Recall legislation passed at the recent special legislative session provides that names of signers shall be listed "legibly written or printed." This list is to be submitted in affidavit form to verify the signatures themselves.

"We are going to have to do some typing (of the names) before we can file the petitions," Mrs. Jackson said.

She did not specify whether enough signatures had been obtained. Earlier she had said she hoped to have sufficient signatures today to file the petitions.

The Mothers League is seeking removal of all board members except Dr. Dale Alford, who has often differed with board policies in the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Several signs of stiffening resistance to integration cropped up yesterday.

A youth group representing 17 Missionary Baptist churches in the "Little Rock area" adopted a resolution urging support for Gov. Orval E. Faubus in his attempt to keep schools segregated.

Foes of integration announced that efforts would be made to give wide publicity to statements by a Memphis attorney who charged at a Citizens Council rally that Negroes were mentally inferior to whites.

About 200 white students from closed-down Central High staged a demonstration on the lawn of the governor's mansion to protest any integration of the embattled school.

None of the high schools has opened for the fall term. They were closed by proclamation of Faubus in his fight to avert a resumption of integrated classes at Central High as ordered by the Supreme Court.

The governor said yesterday at Lexington, Ky., where he was attending the Southern Governors Conference, that he expected to open the schools next week. He has proposed operating the schools as private institutions in order to maintain segregation.

Bulletin

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP)—Police Chief C. G. Johnson said today a suspect was being questioned in Kingsville, Texas, in connection with the slaying of officer Ed Vorden here Sunday night.

Johnson said he had been notified that someone was being questioned who "might lie in with this case," but that he did not know the details.

The chief has theorized that Vorden was shot and killed shortly after arresting a motorist on a traffic violation charge.

Vorden, 35, was fatally shot with a .45 caliber pistol, probably by a prisoner he was attempting to lock up, Johnson said. The body was found in the city jail about 11 p.m.

No trace of the killer has been found.

Johnson said yesterday he had received information that Vorden was seen halting a motorist shortly before the body was found. Vorden's gun and billfold were missing.

Funeral services for Vorden will be held this afternoon at the First Baptist Church here. Survivors include his widow and three small children.

schools closed further, that will be their responsibility."

Collins suggested in a speech to the opening business session of the conference that the integration controversy become the first order of business when Congress meets in January.

"Tragically I see little hope for pulling out of this crisis—short of national catastrophe—if we can't find a way to follow the present pattern of events," he said. "Too much time already has elapsed to wait until any further delay in extricating the nation from the desegregation dilemma."

A resolution urging support of the Faubus effort to keep the Little Rock schools segregated was adopted by the youth group of 17 Missionary Baptist churches in the Little Rock area.

At Johnson City, Tenn., five Negro undergraduate students at Tennessee State College for the first time in the history of the school. No incidents were reported.

And at East Lansing, Mich., Ernest Green, the only Negro to graduate from Little Rock's Central High last spring, began his college career at Michigan State University. He was assigned a dormitory room with a white roommate.

The State of Virginia already has closed Warren County High School at Front Royal and Lane High and Venable Elementary at Charlottesville. Sobeloff earlier refused to delay integration at these schools.

But Democrats kept right on talking about "corruption." They gave every sign they will keep right on reminding the voters of costly favors Adams had accepted from his old friend Goldfine at a time when the presidential aide was making or insinuating inquiries about cases involving Goldfine.

And even some Republicans expressed the view that Adams' departure took so long it won't do them much good at the polls in November.

Examples: Meade ALCORN, Republican national chairman—"It is tragic and ominous that an honest man can be smeared into leaving public office."

Vice President Nixon—"A dedicated public servant."

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore)—"Bismarck 'has been grossly derelict' by not removing Adams long before this."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.)—"Now that the damage is done, I am not sure there is much gain for the country or for the party."

Both Sides Step Up Vote Campaigns

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Both sides stepped up "get out the vote" campaigns today as the possibility loomed that a simple majority could decide Saturday's special school integration election.

The law setting up the election provides that a majority of qualified voters, not merely a majority of those going to the polls, must vote "for integration" in order to reopen the city's four high schools on a public, integrated basis.

Some legal observers point to a constitutional amendment governing referendums, however, in claiming that a simple majority will carry the issue.

The amendment, which supercedes even a subsequent legislative act, holds that a majority of those voting is sufficient to carry an election. Legal experts hold that Saturday's vote is a referendum, despite the fact that it was set up in a legislative act.

Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff of Hot Springs ruled Saturday that a dog track election had carried Garland County although the vote favoring the track was only a majority of those voting, while the dog track law, backed up by an attorney general's opinion, stated that a majority of qualified voters would have to approve the track.

The Arkansas Supreme Court is expected to make a final ruling on the matter during its fall term.

In the Little Rock election, court action is extremely likely, notwithstanding how the vote goes.

No local group is actively supporting integration, per se, but the Women's Emergency Committee to Open Our Schools, various churches and ministers and a

Governors Are Split Over School Problem

By BELMAN MORIN

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Democrats at the Southern Governors' Conference are well and truly split today over desegregating the schools. But they agree completely on one point:

They doubt that a third political party will develop out of the towering controversy.

Some express emphatic opposition. Others simply say the possibility of another breakaway movement, as in 1948, is remote. And none reports any serious talk of it in his state.

"We're not going to be chased out of our own house," said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia.

"I don't think there will be a third party for the simple reason group of attorneys have called for votes "for integration" as the only way to get the schools legally reopened.

Working for votes against integration are the Capital Citizens Council, the League of Central High Mothers and other segregationist groups.

The women's committee was scheduled to meet later today at the home of Mrs. D. D. Terry. The original committee of 50 have expanded to more than 300, officials said.

that it would only give aid and comfort to the Republicans," said Gov. James P. Coleman, of Mississippi.

The only reservation expressed came from Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, of Kentucky, who said, "It could be, if there are enough bitter-enders."

Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas said he saw little likelihood of an insurgent movement within the party.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, of Virginia, is not attending the conference.

This is the view here—in spite of riots in Little Rock last year, empty schools in Arkansas and Virginia this year, the prospect of a long federal-state fight ahead and the potential effects of all this on the presidential election in 1960.

So you come to the question: What will the Democrats do about a civil rights plank in the 1960 platform?

Chandler—who proudly relates how desegregation was accomplished in Kentucky—said, "You can't write one, as things stand now. It would be impossible."

Others gave we'll-have-to-wait-and-see answers.

Apart from the cleavage between northern and southern Democrats, there are side differences here respecting the next steps.

Pleading for a compromise, Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins said: "To contend that no desegregation is feasible at any level anywhere in the southern states is simply not true. On the other hand, it is equally false to assume that some desegregation is possible everywhere in the southern

President Ends 25-Day Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to Washington today from a 25-day vacation at Newport, R.I. One of his first big jobs is to pick a new chief aide as successor to Sherman Adams.

The President, looking tanned and rested, smiled and waved briefly to a small crowd on hand as he left his private plane, the Columbine III. Mrs. Eisenhower was with him.

Eisenhower left immediately for the White House.

states, or that mass integration is possible anywhere in the southern states."

Collins wants Congress to take up the problem, and promptly in January. Gov. Price Daniels of Texas, a state with sharp variations of opinion in the eastern and western ends, says, "It is a matter that should be left up to the local school board. That is the only principle that will work in the South."

But Griffin has in his pocket a resolution that he may propose: "Resolved that this conference go on record to support the preservation of the constitutional government in this nation and protect the 'sovereignty' of the states against all federal encroachment."

Thus, the range of position represented.

Nevertheless the governors here are saying, they don't expect a third party in 1960.

Those Over 65 Can Fish Free

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said yesterday that under authority of a 1951 act anyone 65 or older is entitled to free hunting and fishing licenses.

But a spokesman for the Game and Fish Commission said that charge everyone over 18 for a license.

The ruling, by Assistant Atty. Gen. John T. Haskins, conflicts not only with a commissioner regulation but also with an opinion written by a former assistant attorney general in 1953. John R. Thompson, the former assistant, held then that the 1951 law was void in view of constitutional amendment No. 35, which sets up the Game and Fish Commission as an independent agency.

The matter apparently could be definitely settled only by a court decision.

Yesterday's opinion went to Attorney General James Pickens of De Queen.

Accreditation Loss Could Be Serious

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Although Gov. Orval E. Fabus views outside accrediting of schools in Arkansas as unimportant, a North Central Assn. official yesterday indicated loss of accreditation could be serious.

Fabus told reporters Sunday in Lexington, Ky., that the Arkansas State Board of Education, not the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools, is the primary accrediting agency for Arkansas high schools.

But Dr. L. B. Fisher of Urbana, a member of the association's accreditation Commission for secondary schools, said loss of North Central approval would be a serious blow to Arkansas youngsters seeking a college education.

Arkansas state board accreditation, Fisher said, would carry little weight with colleges and universities outside the borders of the state. Much is true of any state accreditation program, although some states come nearer to N. C. A. standards than do others, Fisher explained.

Earlier this month, Fisher, a professor of education at the University of Illinois, declared North Central would ask for a check of Little Rock high schools whether they reopened as private schools, as they may under Arkansas' recently adopted laws, or public schools.

Little Rock voters will decide in a Sept. 27 referendum whether or not schools shall be integrated.

Key to the Little Rock accreditation problem, Fisher said, is the North Central Criteria calling for evaluation of the "Philosophy of the school" to the extent of its formulating principles of democ-

Dial System to Be Installed

The General Telephone Company of the Southwest has announced that they have received the new automatic electric dial equipment which is to be installed in the new unattended dial office here in Prescott, according to L. A. Green, District Manager, for the company.

The new equipment was ordered several months ago and its installation at Prescott will represent a major improvement in telephone service over the present system. This is part of a multi-million dollar expansion and improvement of facilities campaign to be carried out in 1958 by the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, said Mr. Green.

The new equipment is the most modern equipment available in the telephone industry and is being added to provide constantly improving service as well as to meet the increasing demand for all phases of telephone service including both local and long distance facilities.

The proposed date for the change over from the present system to modern dial operation is Dec. 7, 1958, Mr. Green said.

Mrs. O. G. Hirst spent Friday in Texarkana.

Mrs. R. P. Hamby has returned from St. Louis, where she accompanied her sister, Mrs. J. J. Battle and Miss Mattie Royston of Fulton and Mrs. W. J. McCleary of Marilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Gann have returned to Houston, Texas after a visit with his mother, Mrs. J. M. Ingram and Mr. Ingram.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hubbard spent Friday in Texarkana.

Mrs. Bryan Ritchie attended the regular quarterly meeting of the County School Supervisors in Little Rock during the weekend.

L. J. Long of Prescott has been elected to membership in the American Angus Assn. at St. Joseph, Mo. He was one of the eight pure race. Reopening schools in Little Rock on a public, segregated basis probably would bring about an N. C. A. survey, Fisher declared. If the schools open on a private basis, an N. C. A. study would be a certainty.

Fisher said he would vigorously oppose accrediting Little Rock high schools as private schools on the basis of the "sheer immorality" of the move.

Public or private, Little Rock high schools already may be in an accreditation jam from which they could not extricate themselves this year.

N. C. A. minimum standards call for a 172-day school year. Fisher said Little Rock will be hard pressed to meet that qualification unless the schools open promptly.

Fisher said some colleges and universities require entrance examinations even if the applicant is a graduate of an N. C. A. approved high school, but most university registrars bank heavily on N. C. A. standards.

"If a graduate of a nonaccredited high school applies for admission, most college registrars want to know why the school is not approved," Fisher explained. At schools where applications outnumber the students accepted, the graduate of an N. C. A. approved school would have the inside track.

Regardless of what happens in Little Rock, a North Central decision will not be made before April of next year when the Central Committee of the school accreditation body meets in Chicago.

Elvis Hopes to Date French Actress

NEW YORK (AP)—Elvis Presley, the singing idol of a horde of rock 'n' roll fans, went off to Army service overseas today, hoping to date the French actress, Brigitte Bardot.

Not a shriek was heard, not a scream of joy, as Presley and his tank unit arrived by train at the Brooklyn base from Ft. Hood, Tex. The unit promptly boarded the transport Randall, Next stop: Bremerhaven, Germany.

About 100 teen-age girls gathered but the Army men Elvis' tank over trucks located some distance from their vigil post.

The husky, tall youth wore medals for carbine, pistol and tank gunnery marksmanship.

Presley was asked if he thought the music fad from which he has made a fortune will die out before his Army service is up.

"I don't think it will die out if it does, I hope to turn to serious acting," he told reporters.

Presley said he hoped to date Miss Bardot and visit European capitals during his scheduled 18 months in Germany.

He will be assigned to light truck driving at Prolberg, north of Frankfurt.

Sir Lancelot Fails to Win Gwenivere

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Sir Lancelot's attempt to win back Gwenivere failed Monday, despite a white horse.

James C. Hamm and his wife, Ruth, called each other Lancelot and Gwenivere in the early days of their marriage 20 years ago.

Mrs. Hamm filed for divorce from the 42-year-old real estate broker Sept. 2, leaving their home at nearby Belvedere with their two children.

Hamm rode a white horse down the main street of this San Francisco suburb and hitched it to a parking meter while he entered the Albert building to meet his wife and her attorney.

The horse bore a cardboard shield reading: "Sir Lancelot's white charger. Gwenivere, I love you."

Gwenivere didn't see the white charger—she entered and left the building by a rear door—and she went on to Superior Court and asked for temporary alimony and child support.

Lancelot wasn't so chivalrous last July, she testified, saying he kicked her in the stomach.

Judge N. Charles Brusator awarded her $375 a month and custody of the children. Hamm telephoned the stable to come after the horse.

Bodies Discovered in Algeria Forest

ALGIERS (AP)—French army headquarters announced tonight the discovery of 200 to 300 bodies in a dense mountain forest 100 miles east of Algiers.

An Army spokesman told a news conference all the dead appeared to be Muslims of neighboring villages and said French troops had found leaflets distributed by nationalist rebels saying the mass killing was carried out as punishment for treason.

The reported mass graveyard was near one of the major strongholds of the rebels.

Bond Issue Up at Little Rock

Insists Braves Hold Edge Over the Yankees

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Psychologically, physically and statistically, the Milwaukee Braves hold the edge over the New York Yankees in pitching.

Psychologically because Lew Burdette, who ran up 24 scoreless innings while winning three games against New York last year, again will be on the firing line. Manager Fred Haney probably will start right off with him instead of waiting until the second game as he did in 1957.

Physically because Whitey Ford, Larsen and Ryan Duran, three of Casey Stengel's most dependable hurlers, have done little to help the Yankee cause in the last couple of months. Ford and Larsen have been plagued by sore arms and Duran came down with a leg injury on top of a bruising.

Statistically because the Braves' Warren Spahn has lost none of

Colts Place Pro Rookie on Waivers

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts today placed rookie end Les Walters on waivers. The departure of the 6 foot 183 pound former Penn State star brings the roster of the National Football League club down to 36, one over the player limit.

Walters was the Colts' fourth draft choice last winter. The club announced Monday that linebacker Doug Eagers was placed on waivers. He stayed with the Colts as a free agent in 1955 after playing at South Dakota State.

Favorites Winning at Cumberland

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) — The favorites are winning in grand style this season at the Cumberland race track and track officials couldn't be happier.

After the favorites won seven of eight races Monday, track officials noted that in the first seven days of the current meeting 50 percent of the races or 28 of 56, have been won by favorites.

The mutual handle so far this season is up 74 per cent over last year, possibly because of the high number of winning favorites.

Coach Is Getting the Celtics Ready

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Coach Red Auerbach isn't wasting any time getting his Celtics into top condition for the 1958-59 National Basketball Assn. campaign.

He greeted 14 players, including eight returnees from last year's squad, and then conducted a rugged initial workout Monday. Returning from last year's runnecups for the NBA championship team were Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman, Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell, Frank Ramsey, Jim Loscutt, Lou Tsioropoulos and Sam Jones.

his effectiveness, winning 20 or more games for the ninth time... Burdette is buying his best year and Bob Rush and Carl Willey filled in exceptionally well for the injured Bob Buhl. Conversely, Bob Turkey was the Yankees' only reliable pitcher after Larsen and Ford were sidelined.

Led by Spahn, the major league leader, Milwaukee pitchers have gone the distance 69 times. Yankee mounds have 23 complete games. New York leads in shutouts — 20 to 13. Spahn has 23 complete games while Turkey tops the American League champions with 19.

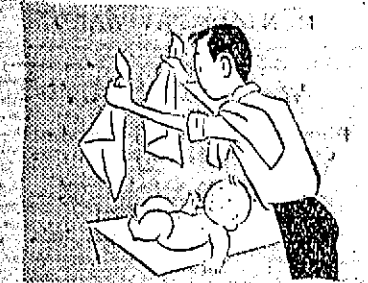

Twenty-two pitchers will be eligible for the World Series which starts in County Stadium, Milwaukee, Wednesday, Oct. 1. Before that date, Stengel will decide which among right-handers Larsen, Murry, Dickson and Tom Sturdivant will be on the sidelines.

Only nine hurlers, however, figure to have anything to say about the outcome. They are Turley (21-7), Ford (14-7), Larsen (8-8) and reliever Duran (6-4) for the Yankees. And Spahn (21-11), Burdette (19-10), Rush (10-6), Willey (9-6) and reliever Don McMahon (7-2) for Milwaukee.

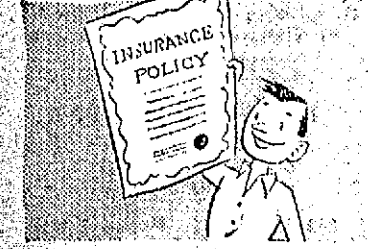

Duke Maas (10-8) of the Yanks has no outside chance for a starting assignment.

Burdette's three victories and one by Spahn enabled Milwaukee to take last year's seven-game set, Ford, Turkey and Larsen won for the Yankees.

SWC Moaning as Play Gets in Full Swing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Methodist Coach Bill Meek, already burdened with the prospect of facing the No. 1 team in the nation this week, showered gloom in all directions today after rain, mud, classes and injuries hampered his workout Monday.

"We didn't get a thing done," Meek growled. SMU opens against Ohio State Saturday.

End Frosty Robinson had an injured back, fullback Mike Hackney got kicked in the knee, and tailback classes kept several top players off the field until late in the practice.

There was rain at Fort Worth, also, but Texas Christian Coach Abe Martin, remembering Saturday's 42-0 romp over Kansas, smiled a little sunshine of his own. He gave the Horned Frogs the day off.

Baylor, swaggering with the shock of being first in the Southwest Conference standings, worked out lightly on a wet field, studied movies of its upset 12-0 victory over Arkansas and heard a scout report on this week's opponent, Hardin-Simmons.

Guard Buddy Durt and fullback Gaylen Crain were named co-captains for this week's game.

U. G. Anderson and J. B. Padgett, Texas guards, were promoted from the alternate to the starting unit Monday for their part in Saturday's 13-8 victory over Georgia.

Fullback Mike Dowdle and Center Jerry Muennink were out with shoulder bruises.

Coach Jess Neely put his defending conference champions, the Rice Owls, through a long and rugged scrimmage Monday.

Neely, looking towards this week's game with Stanford, said he had no wholesale lineup changes in mind despite the 20-6 loss to LSU last week. "We just don't know who we would move up," he said.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles studied movies of the loss to Baylor and said "We have no alibis; we got beat and that's all there is to it. There wasn't enough blocking on offense and the tackling on defense wasn't what it should have been."

Broyles said the Razorbacks would spend a lot of time on pass defense getting ready to meet Tulsa this week.

Texas A.M. upset 15-14 last week by Texas Tech, snagging the injury blues again. Blocking back Jackie Hawthorne had a dislocated shoulder and may be cut from the season. Tailback Charles Milstead hurt a shoulder and end John Tracy reinjured an ankle.

The Aggies put in a hard week out preparing for Houston.

Chrysler, UAW Negotiating

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry waited today to see whether Chrysler Corp. would reach a tentative agreement with the United Auto Workers or whether it would await results of the UAW-General Motors negotiations.

UAW President Walter Reuther, who has personally directed his union's meetings with Chrysler since Monday, told Chrysler top executives that until noon Wednesday he would not work.

If no Chrysler agreement is reached by that hour, Reuther said he would "put the Chrysler talks on the back burner and let them simmer" while he turned his entire attention to GM talks.

Reuther's auto workers have set Sept. 30 as a strike date at GM. If no new contract is worked out to replace the old one, they will strike. They also plan to strike Chrysler if contract talks fail.

Brown Have Full Slate of Rookies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pld Lou Groza is up to his shoulder pads in rookies and sophomores these days.

The only original (1946) member of the Cleveland Browns still is kicking field goals and conversions, still playing a bruising game of left tackle.

But as he starts his 13th year of pro football, he stands in marked contrast with a "major share of the players on the perennial championship team of the National Football League's Eastern Division.

Coach Paul Brown cut his roster to 53 Monday night and found he had seven first-year men. A year ago a dozen rookies made the team, and two-thirds of them are still around. So in the two years since the club failed for the first time to win a division title, Brown has rebuilt nearly half the squad.

Ashburn Takes Lead From Willie Mays

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Ashburn has regained the lead from Willie Mays in the National League's tightest race for the batting title since 1954 — the year Willie won on the last day of the season.

Ashburn, hitless in three games, swept back into the top spot with a 6-for-10 surge that paid off a two-night doubleheader sweep for Philadelphia over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Phils won the opener 3-2 in 11 innings, then took the nightcap 1-0 as the Bucs swished to a pair of strikeouts records.

Those were the only two games scheduled in the NL on Monday. Baltimore defeated Washington 2-0, a record-tying fourth consecutive shutout defeat for the Senators, in the only American League game scheduled.

Ashburn, whose lone bat title came in 1955, picked up five points after going 4-for-4 in the second game for a .343 average. That's .001 ahead of the idle Mays, who stands at .342 after a hot week end for San Francisco. Mays has five games left, Ashburn four.

Ashburn, 0-for-11 before getting his 200th hit Monday night, scored the lone run of the nightcap in the seventh inning. He beat out a bunt and stole second. Then he flashed all the way home as Pirate second baseman Bill Mazeroski struggled to gain his balance after making a nice stop on Ted Kaczanski's infield hit.

Jack Sanford (10-13) was the winner with a seven hitter for his first complete game since July 4. Bobby Young, who had homered in the first inning, scored the tie-breaking run in the opener for the Phils, coming home on Dave Philley's single off loser Ron Kline. (13-16), who went all the way.

Jack Moyer (2-6) won it in relief. He fanned seven in his three innings after starter Seth Morehead had struck out 12 in nine innings and Dick Farrell had whiffed two in two innings.

Bennie Daniels (0-3) matched Sanford's seven hitter for the night cap defeat.

Teachers Go on Strike in Pennsylvania

SHRENDON, Pa. (AP) — Five of the 12 teachers at West Mahanoy Township High School were back at their desks today and more than 100 pupils were in their classrooms, but officially the school remained closed.

Teachers weren't getting paid. Pupils weren't getting credits.

The school board of this Schuylkill County community in the hard coal area of northeastern Pennsylvania had closed the school last Thursday because of a teacher strike brought on by a money shortage.

The walkout by the five men teachers a week ago brought the matter to a head. They demanded payment of some $90,000 in back pay owed them and the seven women instructors.

The board, noting it was broke, and with tax income constantly decreasing, decided to close the school. It directed the 183 students to attend classes in nearby Shenandoah and Frackville.

Parents protested. At a noisy, banner-waving meeting attended by some 500 persons Monday night they demanded the school reopen. The five striking teachers agreed to return to work which they did this morning but officials by found no work.

School Supt. William Rowan said the high school is closed. Actually the building has never been shut. The township's elementary grades attend classes there.

Time Bomb Is Found Atop Eiffel Tower

By JOHN RODERICK

PARIS (AP) — Police today discovered a crude time bomb hidden atop the famed Eiffel Tower, visited by thousands of tourists annually.

The bomb, contained about five pounds of dynamite, police said, and was powerful enough to have blown off the entire top of the tower, which consists mainly of recently added television installations.

The bomb was discovered as the French police force redoubled efforts to stem the wave of Algerian Nationalist terrorism sweeping France on the eve of a new constitutional referendum asked by Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Only this morning France's worldwide airline, Air France, ordered its representatives throughout the world to search all freight put aboard its airliners to prevent any possible sabotage.

The bomb was found in the public toilet at the top of the tower, which is about 1,000 feet high. The platform is about 100 feet from the top of the tower.

Police said the bomb consisted also of an electric battery and an alarm clock. The device was set for 7 o'clock, but the clock had stopped.

Police did not know if it had been set to go off at 7 a.m. when the platform would have been empty, or 7 o'clock tonight when it would have been crowded with tourists.

The bomb was immediately brought down by a special police unit, which was called in by the Paris police.

Barclay, a 34-year-old Algerian, charged with the bombing, was arrested in the city of Algiers. He is being held in the city of Algiers.

Three Algerians, 22 and 21, were also arrested. They are being held in the city of Algiers.

Negro Leader Has Touch of Pneumonia

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a leading spokesman for the Negroes, is recovering so rapidly that his doctors today permitted him to walk a short distance, with assistance.

The Negro leader walked 30 feet to a hospital room for an X-ray examination. He was wheeled back to his police-guarded room.

His condition has been complicated by a touch of pneumonia. But doctors said it had been expected and was nothing to worry about.

King was allowed to sit up for about an hour Monday night and this morning he sat up for 20 minutes reading newspapers.

The 39-year-old Montgomery, Ala., pastor, advocate of nonviolent resistance to Negroes in their struggle against segregation, has been on the critical list at Harlem Hospital since Saturday. He was stabbed with a steel letter opener by a Negro woman in a Harlem department store as he autographed copies of his book, "Stride Toward Freedom."

The woman, Mrs. Izola Warr Curry, 42, is under mental observation at Bellevue Hospital, where doctors said she could give no coherent explanation for the attack on King.

The BRAND RIDER

by ED LA VANWAY

THE STORY: While in town, Foreman John Lane of the Four Arrow ranch attempts to get an explanation of a hester attack on his ranch. However, he is attacked by hesters and severely beaten, although he wounds one of them.

Chapter XIV

Two horses pounded in among the trees, and Lane saw Arturo, Antonio and Sorensen. The lawmen followed, shouting, "Stop it, stop it, I say!"

The stranger men backed away from Lane, but the outlawed woman, only anger revealed, cried, "Sorensen, arrest that man. He shot Daniel, and she caused the Sorensen's attention to the man. Lane had shot to the shoulder. This stranger had jumped down on a passing cow and had a timing pressed to his head. Wee, jumper."

Cole said, "Let's not get excited, now."

"I shot him to keep him from driving me with this fine younger," Lane picked up his hat and said to the sheriff, "I've got a $40 gun here somewhere, and I want it."

One of the emigrant women gave it to Cole, and the lawman passed it to Lane.

Murdo Mitchell, watching him, said, "You can't wear those, Lane. Got any more clothes in town?"

"No."

"Hold on a minute, then," Mitchell said.

chell said "I'll go get you some." He gathered up his dropped reins and spurred back across the plaza, dodging limbs and clearing a path through the crowd.

Lane wondered if he should tell the lawman about Nels Sorensen. Deciding against it, he headed for the spring west of the encamped wagons.

He eased down to a pool in the arroyo and washed himself. He was bruised all over, it seemed, and his muscles were stiffening. He limped as he climbed back up the bank.

The crowd parted again, letting Murdo Mitchell ride back through with a new flannel shirt and a spotted calfskin vest.

"I'll settle with you for these."

The Quarter Circle M owner shook his head. "You don't owe me nothing, Lane. You and I feel the same way about these hesters, and the bull-necked rancher glanced sourly at his brother-in-law sheriff.

Cole himself had moved over near the women, calling their attention to the skillet of meat which was smoking and burning, and it was obvious to Lane that the sorrel-haired budge-toler had the emigrants' full confidence.

Feeling an ache where the slab-sided hestman's brum had struck him in the ribs, Lane searched the pockets of his torn clothing, transferring his tobacco and matches and tally book to the

Initiated Measures to Supreme Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today heard oral arguments on suits seeking to keep five initiated measures from a vote at the November general election.

Included is the "states rights" constitutional amendment proposed by segregationist leader Jim new vest; then he said to Murdo Mitchell, "I'm going over to the stable to put these on." Limping, he struck off through the trees, and he thought, "I wish it had been Colonel Richards that sod-buster kicked in the ribs."

Lane was thoroughly angry now, mostly at himself. He was the one whose hands were tied, not Murdo Mitchell. He had bound himself to follow the orders of Colonel Richards; yet his sympathies were all with Irma McKenzie. It ought to take the crew and burn every nester shack on Tortuga Creek, he thought grimly, but at the same time he knew that wasn't the answer. For every shack they burned, two more would move in. Nesters were inevitable, once they got a foothold on a range.

Thinking of Irma brought a vision of her into Lane's mind — her sinfulness, her long eyelashes and deep brown eyes. Suddenly then Lane realized something, something that astonished him. He had fallen in love with Irma, and Irma was pledged to Sheriff Tom Cole.

The beating he'd just taken pulled Lane's thoughts back to the grangers. Nels Sorensen, he reflected, had lied about the man in which he'd gotten wounded, and unless Doctor Brewer told the elder Sorensen the truth, Lane was due for a run-in with Thurst. It could be that Thurst would doubt the doctor's explanation, believe his son instead of the doctor, and be thirst for revenge. That was, unless the elder Sorensen himself had participated in the raid and knew the truth.

Ignoring the stares of the men on the porch of the livery stable office, Lane let himself through the corral gate and made his way to an empty stall in a shed on the east side. Unbuckling his gun belt, he hung it over the top board of the partition which separated this stall from the adjoining one, and turned the holster so that the butt of his gun would be within reach. He was in the stall 10 minutes or more, donning the shirt and vest and gun belt. As he lit a smoke, his gaze fell on a sorrel horse standing near the shed on the far side of the corral. Suddenly Lane felt the hair lift on the nape of his neck.

Head lifted and ears tipping forward, the sorrel was watching someone. Dropping his cigarette, he suddenly stepped into the open, six-gun ready, and he saw that his alarm was justified. The man creeping upon him, stalking him like a wolf, was Deputy Louis Scharr.

Scharr halted and reared back at sight of Lane. His sideburned jaws sagged, and chagrin became a glitter in his coal-black eyes.

"Trying to shoot me in the back again?" Lane said.

Mary Roberts Rhinehart Dies at Age of 82

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Roberts Rhinehart, best-selling author of mysteries and novels for 50 years, is dead at 82.

She died in her sleep Monday night in her Park avenue apartment. There, until writer's cramp afflicted her two years ago, she typified her pen every morning to one of the most successful careers in the history of publishing.

From her pen flowed 40 full length novels, hundreds of short stories, verse and plays—success following success like chapters in a book.

Estimates on the number of copies of her books sold range over 11 million. A publisher once figured that her millions of readers paid some 27 million dollars to read her works and see her plays.

She tempered the murders of her mysteries with love and humor and helped the crime story to come of age.

Her first book, "The Circuitous Staircase," published in 1908, achieved a storybook success right off the presses and has sold some 800,000 copies over the years. It is still in print.

In addition to her spine-tingling mysteries, a series of humorous short stories recounting the odd adventures of a droll spinster named Tish earned her a wide readership.

Eight months of the year she wrote in New York. The other four she spent in Florida and Bar Harbor, Maine, which served as the setting for the popular mystery, "The Yellow Room."

Personal tragedy punctuated her life. Her father committed suicide when she was 19. Her mother died an invalid. After Mrs. Rhinehart was married and the mother of three, the panic of 1907 left the family $12,000 in debt.

She took to writing to salvage the family finances and her career was born.

Her husband Dr. Stanley Rhinehart died in 1932.

Mrs. Rhinehart underwent surgery 15 times, once for cancer, survived four heart attacks and, against her doctor's advice, smoked a pack of cigarettes daily to the end of her life.

Johnson of Crossett, now a Democratic nominee for the Supreme Court.

Former Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry, who once defeated Johnson for that position, attacked the Johnson proposal on ground that its designation is misleading.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, who approved the measure's ballot title, filed a reply denying the Gentry allegations.

Other litigation centers around a proposal for repeal of the railroad "full crew" law, a counter proposal to give the law constitutional status, a proposed "freedom to hire" amendment and a proposal to require railroads to install certain safety devices at all crossings.

Today was the first day of the Supreme Court's fall term.

The court was not expected to announce decisions in the suits today.

This TOO is Texas Eastern

Shipping petroleum products from Gulf Coast to Midwest

The Little Big Inch Division of Texas Eastern is a common-carrier of petroleum products. Its 1800-mile system links Gulf Coast, Ark-La-Tex and Mid-Continent refineries with steadily growing markets in 13 states.

Refined petroleum products, such as aviation and motor gasoline, jet and tractor fuels, heating and burner oils and liquefied butane and propane, move through the line from points as far south as Sweeney, Baytown and Beaumont, Texas, to points as far north as Chicago and as far east as Lebanon, Ohio.

The completion, last month, of the 1,100,000-barrel terminal at Lebanon, Ohio, marked the ninth storage point placed into service along the Little Big Inch since its conversion from the transportation of natural gas. The system now provides storage capacity of more than ten million barrels; 6,100,000 barrels owned by Texas Eastern and approximately 4,000,000 by shippers. In addition, the system has access to nine terminals in the Chicago area.

To further expand the service and capacity of the system, the Little Big Inch Division is mining the first of several caverns at Todhunter Terminal south of Middletown, Ohio. Mined out of solid rock 350 feet below the surface, the caverns will store LPGas for distribution throughout Southern Ohio and neighboring areas. The capacity of the initial cavern will be 150,000 barrels.

The Little Big Inch Division gives added versatility to Texas Eastern's operations. Its common-carrier pipeline system, one of the nation's largest, provides a dependable, economical means of delivering clean petroleum products in surplus in the Southwest to the Midwest where the demand for these products is increasing from year to year.
